MARGARET J. WHEATLEY

Margaret (Meg) Wheatley began caring about the world's peoples in 1966, as a Peace Corps volunteer in post-war Korea. In many different roles--speaker, teacher, consultant, senior-level advisor, formal leader—she acts from the unshakable conviction that leaders must learn how to invoke people's inherent generosity, creativity and need for community. As this world tears us apart, sane leadership on behalf of the human spirit is the only way forward. Since 1973, Meg has taught, consulted, and advised an unusually broad variety of organizations on all continents (except Antarctica). Her clients and audiences range from the head of the U.S. Army to twelve-year-old Girl Scouts, from CEOs and government ministers to small town ministers, from large universities to rural aboriginal villages. She has served as full-time graduate management faculty at two universities, formally advised leadership programs in England, Croatia, Denmark, Australia and the U.S. Through Berkana, she has advised leadership initiatives in India, Senegal, Brazil, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Mexico, Greece, Canada and Europe.

Meg's doctorate is in Organizational Behavior from Harvard University, her Masters is in Media Ecology from N.Y.U. Many professional associations, universities, and organizations have honored her for her path-finding work.

She has thirteen books, from the classic Leadership and the New Science (1992, in 20+ languages) to Restoring Sanity: Practices to Awaken Generosity, Creativity, and Kindness (2024). Her most creative work with musician Jerry Granelli is a penetrating experience, The Warrior's Songline, a Journey into Warriorship Guided by Voice And Sound. https://margaretwheatley.com/the-warriors-songline/

Since 2015, she has dedicated herself to training leaders and activists from more than 35 countries as Warriors for the Human Spirit, an in-depth training program and path of service supported by a robust global community. https://margaretwheatley.com/why-warrior-training/
